

Shaping Leadership and Collaboration

A Weekend Workshop for Entrepreneurs, Founders, and Executives from Startup Networks.

What challenges do you face as a founder and leader in fast-paced, dynamic periods? How can you lead in a goal-oriented way and consciously foster collaboration in your daily work?

These questions and their many facets will be explored in the weekend workshop.

Under my guidance, the group provides you with a space to reflect on and work through specific questions. The diverse perspectives and resonances of participants form a basis for collectively exploring the role and responsibilities as a leader. The interplay within the group creates an opportunity to consolidate your own role and stance, as well as to develop alternative approaches for your leadership practice.
